

Farmland

|| Volume 31, Number 11.

Notice.
The firm known as Giessing & Bro., has been succeeded by the Farmington Milling Company. All persons indebted to the old firm, or having claims against it, are requested to call and settle them at the earliest opportunity.
Respectfully,
Giessing & Bro.
GIESSEING & BRO.

The administration has got the daylights scared out of Wall Street
The administration has got the
daylights scared out of Wall Street

There was a small sized sensation in the House last Monday morning when the committee to investigate the report of Assistant Postmaster Bristow made its report. It was rumored that not less than 150 of the House members were implicated in the report as having violated the law and there was considerable "doing about" until the printed report was brought into the House. It was eagerly seized and scanned with much fear and trembling by the members until they were satisfied that they were not in the list of alleged evil doers. Those implicated were charged either with renting buildings owned by them to the government for postoffices, or else that they had been instrumental in getting the allowances of the post-offices in their districts increased, the inference being that they had done so with some ulterior motive and not for the good of the service. This whole thing is a case of great very and little wool. The members who have been thus publicly charged by Mr. Bristow with violating the law have only done so technically and for no graft or loot. They have simply written to the Postoffice Department authorities when appealed to by their constituents, and the postmasters in their turn, appealed to by Congressmen, for funds by the postmasters in their districts to be given to them for the purpose of paying for the maintaining the mails. Many of the O, Life! deny it if you will, the enjoyment and comfort of wealth, causing us to bear the burden of poverty. Let our place in life be among the lowest of the low.

Give fame to others and cause our names to be forgotten in the world, blotted out from the remembrance of man. Instead of pleasure's cup, cause us to drink the poisonous dregs of pain. Fill our lives with sorrow that is of this world only.
Take away from us friends and multiply our enemies. For us let there be no homes with their comforts and loves. Take all that is in your power to give, but let us live in whatever our surroundings with the knowledge that God, our Father, rules over all; that His will and thereunto stand. He is blessed, glorious and worthy to be glorified forever and ever. Amen.

"For ye are my workmen," says the Lord making "all things to work together for good." Give to us to live ing her last lingering illness she had the constant, loving and self-sacrificing care of her two sisters, but it was the Lord's will to call her home to rest.

She had for a number of years been trusting in Christ as her Saviour, and shortly before her death she, with her two sisters, united with the Russell Avenue Mission. We do not mourn at those who have no hope, but it is a joy to look forward to the resurrection and home-gathering.

"Beyond the smiling and the weeping, Beyond the waking and the sleeping,
We shall be soon."

Love! Rest! Home!

HER PASTOR.

The Cape City Soap Works is a $40,000 corporation just organized at Cape Girardeau. By the first of July they expect to be ready for business. The new outfit of machinery has already been ordered and the business with an output of 200 cases of laundry soap and another case of soap.

Every suggestion from such sources, with respect to our money system is arranged along lines of the selfish interests of the financiers. According to these plans either the greenback is to be exchanged for a gold certificate, that must have the gold in the treasury before it may be issued, thus locking up in the treasury vaults one dollar in actual gold for every dollar in greenbacks retired; or national bank notes must be substituted for the greenbacks. According to these bank notes must be substituted for the greenbacks. According to this latter plan, the government

Wm. Skews of Conrad, Ne Madrid county, accidentally sh himself in the leg while prepari to go hunting. He was taken to hospital at Cairo and his leg w amputated, but he died in a fe days. He was buried at his form home, Ste. Genevieve, on the 13 inst. He leaves a wife and th children: He was a cousin of Ho E. A. Bozier, a wife and th children. He was a cousin of Ho E. A. Bozier.